

U.S.- China People's Friendship Association

ANNUAL FALL FORUM 2011

“Chinese Community Organizations in Atlanta: History, Goals, and Activities”

Sunday, October 9, 4:00 p.m.

Mercer University – Atlanta
Wooten Auditorium in the Swilley Library

This forum features three of a number of very active Chinese organizations in Atlanta: the National Association of Chinese-Americans (NACA), the Association of Chinese Professionals (ACP), and the Atlanta Contemporary Chinese Academy (ACCA). Representing the three groups will be:

Lani Wong, long-time member and officer in the local chapter and former national president of NACA

Shaohua Hu, senior epidemiologist at the Center for Disease Control and Prevention and president of ACP

Zhu'an Dong, leading organizer of the Chinese school, ACCA, and vice-president of ACP

The forum is co-sponsored by the Atlanta chapter of the US-China People's Friendship Association and the China Research Center.

Mercer University is at exit #94 on I-85. Going north, exit I-85 and turn right onto Chamblee Tucker Road. Take a right on Mercer University Drive and follow signs to library parking.
