

U.S.-China People's Friendship Association
SPRING FORUM 2011

“Film in Contemporary China: Independent Films and Directors”

Sunday, April 3, 4:30 p.m.
Teasley Room, Bullock Science Center
Agnes Scott College
141 East College Avenue, Decatur, GA 30030
(Follow the yellow event signs pointing to the Bullock Science Center)

Speakers:

Shu-chin Wu

Assistant Professor of History, Agnes Scott College

“Visualizing China in Transformation:
The Underground and Independent Films of Jia Zhangke”

Professor Wu will focus on the ways in which Jia films the marginal and the everyday to illustrate the reality and consequences of China's market reform.

Qi Wang

Assistant Professor of Literature, Communications, and Culture
Georgia Institute of Technology

“Alternative Visions and Unofficial Historians of Post-Socialist China:
A Talk on Contemporary Chinese Cinema and Documentary”

Professor Wang will consider contemporary Chinese film-makers as historians and their relationship to political and social concerns in Chinese society.

Co-sponsored by the Asian Studies Program, Agnes Scott College;
Free and Open to the Public