

THE CENTER FOR GLOBAL INFORMATION STUDIES PRESENTS:

MEDIATIZING THE NATION: CHINA'S CONTESTED NATIONAL IDENTITY

MARCH 21

12 - 2 PM

25 PARK PLACE, ROOM 830

LUNCH TO BE SERVED

This mini-conference gathers top scholars on Chinese media and nationalism, along with media and cultural practitioners to discuss issues ranging from China's cyber nationalism, to its global nation-branding through the media, to the contestation of China's national image by international news outlets and audiences. It presents an innovative and unique forum for engaging with the linkages between China's evolving media system and its national imagery.
