

China Research Center

The Georgia Tech School of History and Sociology and the Sam Nun School
International Affairs and the China Research Center

Present a Public Lecture

"Myths and Realities of Chinese Espionage"

By

Dr. James Mulvenon

Monday, December 4th, 2017, 4-5:30 p.m.

Room 104, Old Civil Engineering Building, Georgia Tech Campus (Street address: 221 Bobby Dodd Way)

James Mulvenon, Ph.D., is General Manager of SOS International's Special Programs Division, where he has recruited and trained a team of nearly fifty Chinese, Russian, Korean, Arabic, Farsi, Dari, Pashto, and Urdu linguist-analysts performing research and analysis for US Government and corporate customers. A Chinese linguist by training, he is a leading international expert on Chinese cyber, technology transfer, espionage, and military issues.